

October Sales: What a great month! Thanks, no doubt to our Anniversary Sale, sales were 41% up over last year! What sold? A little bit of everything, although Pokémon, sports memorabilia, and pop culture collectibles were a big hit. In addition, household merch, jewelry, and Christmas décor sales weren't too shabby either. As we move into the holiday season be sure you're ready.

Anniversary Sale: A huge thank you to all of those, who in ways big and small, contributed to its success. Whether you baked, shopped for treats, put together a gift basket, or donated your time for our seminars, it all added up to happy customers. And a special shout out goes to Jaime who coordinated all the additional advertising and to Brian, Ron and again, Jamie, for their social media and website posts. THANK YOU!

Thanksgiving: We will be closed Thursday, November 27th.

Next Sale: Saturday, December 6th – Santa arrives and will be checking you off on his naughty and nice list from 2:00-6:00. We are planning a 4-day event for this weekend. Details to follow as we get closer to the event.

Bookcases: Several bookcases are available. The two that are up front will be available December 1st. The others are in the back, adjacent to the library. Prices vary. Talk to Glenn about the particulars.

Happy Thanksgiving! I am so thankful for your support and dedication, making Out of the Attic one of the best Collectible and Antique stores ever!

Love you guys, Uncle Glenn.
